Whittemore is the president of the company, and the official plats of the townsite bear the title Clark's Las Vegas Townsite, so as to distinguish it from the unauthorized townsite which was rushed into the market recently by speculators. Mr. Whittemore said this morning There will be no auction and no drawing. Everybody will have a fair show and we reserve the right of selecting the purchasers from these applications filed. We will give preference every time to those parties who are bonafide settlers or who will improve their holdsettlers or who will improve their holdings, go into business and generaly help to build up the town. We want no boom and no speculators if we can help it. The town will be known as Las Vegas. Will Make an Ocean to Ocean Trip Via LOS Angeles. Chicago, May 5 .- E. H. It is the intention to operate the car from Omaha to Portland, Or., exhibit it at the Lewis & Clark exposition and thence run to San Francisco over the Shasta route. From there it will run to Los Angeles and from there to New Orleans and thence to Chicago via St. Louis. When the car reaches Chicago, it will make a speed and hauling power run from this city to Milwaukee and re-turn. After this the motor probably will be taken to New York via Buffalo, and from there back to Omaha by way of Washington, Pittsburg and Chicago, thus circulating the continent. This will give a thorough test of its long distance abilities, power on grades and will satisfy the curlosity of railroad men who have manifested unusual in-

New Haven, Conn., May 3 .-- In the suit of Franklin Farrell, the millionaire manufacturer of Ansonia, and others, against Thomas Wallis of this city and Robert D. Grant of Salt Lake City, to recover $600,000, a second count was put in by the plaintiffs in the superior court here today, relating to the alleged circumstances of the transfer of the Parrot mine to the Amalgamated Copper ompany. It appears from the papers that in 1899 Franklin Farrell owned 62,694 shares of the property and that in ownership of himself and family there were 102,459 shares. The plaintiffs, it is said, agreed with the defend. ants for sales of these holdings at $50 a share or as much as could be obtained. Negotiations followed, it is declared, between the defendants with William Rockefeller or H. H. The holdings of the defendants were then returned as sold at $40 a share, the total received by plaintiffs being given at $4,628,780. The plaintiffs now claim that the defendants received about $5,200,000 or about $600,000 more than the amount returned. In making the sales it is asserted in the papers the defendants also obtained 2½ percent commission upon the total amount sold at the returned price of $40 a share.

IN HANDS OF JURY

Come to Utah to Stir Interest Up Defendant Fears a Failure to Agree, Which Would Mean Long Delay.

Considered His Escapade in Salt Lake As Merely a Big Lark -- Happy In Serrow.

At 10:20 o'clock this morning the case of the United States against J. C. Peltier, charged with impersonating a postoffice inspector, went to the jury. This afternoon no decision had been reached, and an impression was current about the court room that the jury would fall to agree. At 12:30 o'clock the jury went to lunch, and at 1:30 returned to take up the debate on the verdict.

The trial was concluded yesterday afternoon, except for the closing arguments which were heard this morning ments which were heard this morning.
Judge O. W. Powers, representing the defendant, attempted to have the indictment quashed because Pelitier, in representing himself to be a postoffice inspector had not done any work in that capacity, or defrauded the government out of any money. The objection was overruled by Judge Marshall on the ground that Pelitier had used the claim that he was a government official to obtain credit, and this ment official to obtain credit, and this eral court to handle

PELTIER WAS ANXIOUS.

Mr. Peltier is a portly man, and is not without a sense of humor. He he not the appearance of a grafter or criminal, but rather of a man with big fund of practical jokes and an un-controllable desire to practise them This morning, during the long wait for the jury to come in, he sat in the of-fice of United States Marshal Heywood and laughed over the testimony of his late entertainers. He even won-dered if he could take a mortgage on the police headquarters or the Taber-back to Texas with him, if he really set about to obtain it. Referring to the testimony of Postmaster Clove, that he had invited Peltier to have a lemonade in Provo, Peltier indignantly denied that the testimony was true, and asserted that while the invitation was to go in have a jemonade, the name of the drink was changed once they lined up at the thirst counter.

One thing brought an expression of anxiety to the face of the prisoner. It was the remark of a court attache that the jury was liable to bring in a "hung" verdict. Peitier asked what this meant,

The testimony in the case shows that Peltier went about Sait Lake gathering up all the "easy money" he could find for a week or ten days. He explained this on the side out of court, by stat-ing that he considered his visit here in the nature of a vacation, and was out for a large time. He even sent his re-gards to Senator Burrows by Mr. Chatterton, who came from Washington to

The first witness was Fire Chief By water, who testified that he had met Peltier last August. At this time Peltier told him he was a United States postoffice inspector, sent ou here by Senator Burrows to work upon the Smoot case, and that he wanted to the smoot case, and that he wanted to be introduced to the leading people of the city. The same afternoon he bor-rowed $35 from Bywater on the pre-tense that his vouchers had not ar-

Justice Bartch of the supreme court of Utah, who has been on a roundup of the southern Nevada gold camps; returned home yesterday afternoon. WIFE CHARGES CRUELTY.

Says Her Husband, Arthur Lochelt Threatened to Kill Her.

Cruelty is the ground upon which Eliza J. Lochelt asks a divorce from Arthur Lochelt, whom she married at Southampton, Eng., Dec. 25, 1883. The complaint, which was filed this afternoon, alleges that in the month of November, 1902, defendant destroyed and burned various pictures, books and family records belonging to plaintiff, and about the same time he threatened to take the life of herself and children, and because of such threats she was compelled to leave her home and seek protection with her relatives. On various occasions she charges that defendant called her vile names and accused her of infidelity in the presence of her she claims that he has forbidden her relatives and friends to visit her at her home and has tried to prevent her from attending the church of which she is a member. She claims that his abuse of her is growing worse and that she has fears of personal violence at his hands. She asks for a divorce, for $10 per month as alimony, $50 attor-ncy's fees and also that defendant be restrained from visiting her at her home or from in any manner interfear-ing with her.

Arguments on Admissability of Records To Prove Embezziement.

The state undertook to introduce a letter press book which contained cop-ies of the slips upon which reports of remittances of money orders sold by Fisher and which slips were sent to the head office of the company. Attorney Truman objected to the introduction of the book on the ground that it was only copies and not the originals of the slips containing the figures sought to be introduced, and the state could not introduce it until it was shown that the original slips, which were on fite in the original slips, which were on file in the head office, could not be obtained. The point raised was argued most of the afternoon yesterday and all of the morning session today, and part of the afternoon. The case will hardly be concluded today.
